

Rhythm of Life

FACE MASK PROJECT TO SUPPORT MOMS AND THEIR CHILDREN IN KAMPALA, UGANDA

Help mothers learn a new skill and feed their children

"We can't feed our children but this project will allow us to get food...."

- A mom who supports her children through sex work in Kampala

Extremely poor moms who support their children through sex work are vulnerable even in normal times. Now, due to the Covid-19 pandemic and lockdown in many countries, these moms can no longer provide food for their children. Global Health Promise is collaborating with our partner in Kampala, Rhythm of Life, to provide these moms with the materials, tools, and training to make face masks to sell in the community. This project provides the moms with an alternative source of income during the lockdown, and with valuable skills they can continue to use long after the lockdown is over.

The total budget for the project is $3,600. All donations help:

- $50 provides enough material for a mother to make 100 masks
- $122 provides a mother with a sewing machine
- $130 provides the mother with a sketch book and clear files
- $135 contributes to the rent for the sewing center
- $149 provides the mother with all the training materials necessary to learn how to tailor
- $324 provides the central with a working table to ease the sewing work

[Based on US Dollars; USD]

Donations of any amount can be made to directly to

Rhythm of Life on their website: <https://rhythmoflifeuganda.com/>

If you prefer to donate through Global Health Promise, you can donation on our website:

www.globalhealthpromise.org or contact Brian Willis at bwillis@globalhealthpromise.org.

Thank you for your generous support!